

2012 Knox Cave

WNS Study

Researcher: Dr. David Blehert

Proposal overview:

Researchers from the National Wildlife Health Center will use Knox Cave to study climatic conditions within bat hibernacula, their influence on environmental loads of Geomyces destructans, and implications for the mitigation of white-nose syndrome in bats.

Approved June 10, 2012